General Petroleum's Latest Tanker

On her maiden voyage to the Pacific coast, the two-million-dollar tanker "Socony-Vacuum" arrived at Los Angeles docks of General Petroleum Corporation last Saturday. She took on a cargo of gasoline for Seattle. Later she will return to load 4,292,000 gallons of gasoline for transportation to the Atlantic coast.

Christened with a bottle of California champagne at her recent launching at the New York Shipbuilding Company's plant, this 500-foot ocean-going tanker started her nautical career under the most encouraging auspices. The christening was done by Mrs. J. J. Maguire, wife of the president of the Standard Vacuum Transportation Company, affiliate of the Socony-Vacuum Oil Company, of which the General Petroleum Corporation of California is a subsidiary.

The "Socony-Vacuum" sister ship of the "Magnolia" launched April 3, is one of a fleet of five new vessels added during the past year to the line of the company, whose name she proudly bears on her prow. Her appearance on the Pacific coast officially records the successful completion of the largest merchant marine program of recent years.

Wandering Sand Dunes of 'American Sahara' Make Lineman's Work Hard

In the New Mexico desert. Above: Using a tractor to scrape away a sand hill in order to place a new pole. Left: When these 40-foot telephone poles were installed, a few years ago, there were no sand dunes at this point. Now sand reaches almost to the cross-arms of the poles in the background.

From an elevation of 7,623 feet where it enters the State of New Mexico over the Raton Pass, to the lowest point of the line at El Paso, Tex., where the elevation is 3,780 feet, the telephone line between Denver, Colo., and El Paso rises and falls 3,843 feet within the 550 miles of its route within New Mexico.

The Journey of Death
In the northern part of the state, the line follows generally the route of the historic Santa Fe Trail, and in its southern section it follows a no less historical path, namely, the Jornada del Muerto, or Journey of Death. Along this section of the line between Albuquerque and Socorro a veritable Sahara exists. Due to the ever shifting sands, the region is utterly devoid of any vegetation. The sands follow the vagaries of the wind and there are times when the sand piles up until it reaches almost within a foot of the lowest telephone wire, while at other times the sand is cleared away down to the very desert floor.

Replaced All Telephone Poles
It was in this area that the Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph Company recently had the task of replacing all the poles across these sands. And it was quite a task. As a well defined ground line exists, forty-foot fully cross-topped poles were used, and in order to find ground in which to dig the pole holes, it was necessary to use scrapers and tractors to remove the sand.

Safeway Celebrates Founding Of First Store 20 Years Ago

Twenty years ago this week in American Falls, Idaho, a young man spent the last of his savings to start a grocery store.

All this week, in approximately 3,000 stores from coast to coast, the event will be celebrated with a great anniversary program. The young man who walked down the streets of American Falls that August day in 1915 is M. B. Skaggs, now chairman of the board of one of the world's largest food retailing organizations, and the store he founded is No. 1 of Safeway Stores, Inc.

Request Funds For Surfacing Drive In Hills

Supervisors Also Consider Application For Funds For Western Avenue

Request for $10,000 for surfacing of Palos Verdes drive was laid before the board of supervisors this week by George Jones, county road commissioner.

Palos Verdes drive, extending westerly across the north slope of the Palos Verdes Hills from Vermont avenue, was graded under the SEIRA project several months ago. It was started as a CWA project. "This road was graded and oiled some time ago, but due to the nature of the soil it is now found to be desirable that it be surfaced with macadam in order to prevent rutting," the road chief wrote the supervisors. "Right-of-way for the road, 240 feet wide, was given by the owner of the property, an eastern capitalist."

Formal application for federal funds for the grading of Western avenue through the Palos Verdes Hills between Lomita and San Pedro was also submitted to the board of supervisors by the county's public works cabinet. The application, which is expected to be filed as a WPA project, was to have been acted on Monday, but there was not a quorum present and the first board meeting was continued to Wednesday.

Installation of a storm drain also is provided for in the application, which is for $15,000. The employment would be distributed so that each man employed would earn not more than $1,625 per year. It was computed. Cost of superintendence, engineering equipment and materials was estimated at $12,353, which the county would furnish.

Rare Music Box Owned
DONIPHAN, Mo. (U.P.)—Mrs. Anton Bauer owns an antique French music box, Swiss manufacture. It plays a dozen French tunes. It consists of a metal cylinder on which are innumerable projecting posts. As the cylinder revolves, the posts strike a sounding tones similar to those of a French harp.

The company has long been in the forefront of employee welfare work. An organization for this purpose known as the Safeway Employees' Association—with liberal contributions from the company—is often considered a model for insurance and welfare funds for public spirited programs.
